Editor and Manager.
PAUL HARDING,
Managing Editor.

Sunday is Easter—put on your best.

Don't complain about keeping up your poor kin. Think of your Uncle Sam.

One trouble with those hit and run drivers is that they get to running good before they hit you.

"Bishop Cannon Attacks The Administration," says a headline.
But the Bishop is not near the big shot he used to be.

An economical man who doesn't see any sense in wasting words should go ahead and agree with his wife in the first place.

It is our idea that those who read the congressional record are people who have nothing else to do in the world to do and plenty of time in which to do it.

A British scientist says there will come a time when the world will be full of women and there won't be a single woman left. We get it—they'll be married.

We didn't believe that she could do it, but she did. Barbara Hutton has stayed married to her husband long enough for the stork to learn her address.

The Italians don't appear to have taken any notice of the unusually rainy season in Ethiopia. It is just a question of a few days now until it'll all be over.

Governor Talmadge thinks we need a man like Abe Lincoln in the White House. However, so far as we know, Georgia's Chief Executive wasn't born in a log cabin.

We see by the papers where Jimmy Walker and his wife have adopted a six-weeks old baby.
More and more the "big people" of this country are trying to "get around having their own children."

An Indiana woman has attended Sunday school for 31 years without missing a session. And we'll wager there isn't a boy in her town who can buy a new dress without her knowing it.

Al Smith insists that he has always been a Democrat, still is and always will be. Which is too bad.
If he was a Republican he could get more exercise walking from Cleveland instead of Philadelphia.

Hauptmann has paid the price and we hope that case is ended.
Just a few days before the execution it appeared that next to the biggest mistake that the criminal made was not getting Hoffman for his attorney in the first place.

A fellow we know says he thinks we should try to remember some of the things we learn while kids.
For instance he says when he was a child he knew both the shortest and longest verses in the Bible—"and can still remember the former."

The Insurance Commissioner of Iowa the other day revoked the license of the Union Mutual Life Insurance company and the Union Mutual Casualty company, both of Des Moines. Examinations revealed the report stated that "condition of insolvency" in the casualty company, and "alleged in-regularities" in operation of the life insurance company.

In order to vote in the June 2nd primary election, one must be a resident of the state one year, the county in which he now resides six months. He must have his name on the registration books in the precinct in which he votes and have poll tax receipts for the years 1934 and 1935. Pay your poll tax now and avoid the eleventh hour rush.

Business is definitely picking up.
There can be no mistake about that. There may be room for argument as to the causes of the improvement, but there is none as to the fact. The most definite improvement is in the automobile industry. Anybody can count for himself the growing number of new cars on the highways and when the bonus is paid about the middle of June there will be a decided improvement all over the country. Yes, the depression is over.

The recent opinion of the United States Supreme Court declaring the tax on newspapers by the state of Louisiana unconstitutional reminds us again of the fundamental principles of a constitutional form of government. The establishment of a right of free press is set in the first amendment of the constitution of the United States: "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Passenger revenues of domestic air transport companies last year amounted to more than $15,800, an increase of 83 per cent.
Over 1934, when passenger revenues were approximately $8,600, 000.

COMPETITION IN BUSINESS

The old saying that competition is the life of trade is as true today as it has always been. One might carry the idea farther and add that competition is not only the life of trade but the life of a community business would soon become demoralized.

Picture a generalized town with but one store or business of its kind—one drug store, one dry goods store, one grocery, one meat store, etc. Naturally these stores who had a monopoly in their respective lines would charge higher prices for what they had to sell, the choice of selection of merchandise would be narrowed down to what these few men decided to carry in stock and a certain amount of indifference would be bound to creep into the service they furnished. There would be a tendency toward a take-it-or-leave-it attitude. I am the only one here who has the goods.

The reaction of the public, naturally, would be to spend more money with mail order houses and in the stores of larger cities nearby. The loss of this money from local circulation would materially retard civic progress and affect the prosperity of every resident. For a certainty, a place of this type would not support a local newspaper, as well as other projects.

As it is today, the average life style of people gives a good amount of itself in competition with the larger businesses. He buys carefully, well chosen stock of good merchandise which he sells at low prices and gives a personal, neighborly service that big fellows cannot furnish—

FARMERS PAYING UP
One of the sure indications of improvement in rural conditions is supplied by the increased collection of principal and interest on loans held by federal land banks and loans made by the land bank commissioner. Reports just issued show that during October, 1935 the land banks collected $5,820,000 in interest as compared with $5, 611,000 of the same month of that month. The largest percentage increase was registered in the district of the land bank at Columbia, S. C. That shows that the southeastern area has been gaining along a little better than the rest of the country, although there has been general improvement.

The credit facilities supplied by the federal land banks have probably been the greatest factor in the improvement of rural conditions in recent years. Thousands of farmers who had been borrowing from bootstrapping loan companies which charged from two percent to 31 percent per month have been able to refinance their loans at reasonable rates of interest. Under these conditions there is some hope of their paying out and getting onto feet financial footing, which was absolutely impossible with loans drawing from 24 to 62 percent per year.

From the same report we learn that the Federal Land Banks are now the largest holders of farm mortgages. They have passed the life insurance companies and commercial banks which formerly held the great bulk of mortgage on farms. At the beginning of 1935 the Federal Land Banks and Land Bank Commissioner held farm mortgage loans amounting to more than $2,553,000,000, or about one-third of the total farm loan—Florida Grower.

Hastings Preparing Big Potato Harvest

The strawberry crop in the Wauchula and Bowling Green sections of south Florida this winter and spring has been almost a complete failure compared with past seasons. The cold weather before the holidays cut the crop considerably and at the time when the season is at its peak heavy rains for several days practically ruined the plants. The season in those cities has practically ended with the shortest crop in history. The shipments now going from those centers are being made by truck.

Louisiana, south Arkansas and Arkansas began shipping berries last week, more than 500 cars going from the former state alone. Favorable weather conditions are reported from Louisiana and 3000 cars are expected to go from the Hammond section. The crop in Arkansas will also be short, caused from weather conditions and from a cut in acreage. The United States Department of Agriculture berries will be harvested from approximately 3,400 acres. The berries are larger than last year but the drought affected new fields. Southern Missouri and west Tennessee will be shipping berries by the latter part of next week.

Frost visited the vegetable section of California the latter part of last week and did considerable damage. Actual frost damage was confined to the pea crop while the lettuce crop suffered slightly. Growers expect to begin shipping lettuce from that state the latter part of this week.

Wauchula and Bowling Green, being practically through with the berries, are now shipping cukes and the latter part of next week will begin in car lot shipments. The auction system is in vogue in the Wauchula section. Despite the adverse weather in that particular section this winter there is a large yield and prices for No. 1 cukes has been as high as $5.00. A large acreage of tomatoes and lettuce will be found in the Hardee county section this season.

The potato crop in the Hastings section is expected to be about normal this season and the growers and operators are expected to begin harvesting the crops this week according to newspaper accounts. The season is opening several weeks later than usual which is due to unfavorable weather conditions which have been general throughout the state this winter. The potato yield in the Hastings section for many years was one of the largest in the state and in past years the acreage has been as high as 25,000 acres in a single season. That section too has had its bad crop years and for several seasons has been cutting down on the acreage. The potato acreage for 1936 is estimated to be approximately 14,000 acres. Forty barrels to the acre is considered a normal yield in the Hastings section.

The tomato growers around the Lake are getting ready to harvest one of the largest crops in its history. This section having practical-ly escaped killing frosts during the past few weeks, will begin to pick and pack the crop in a week or ten days. Picking houses are getting in shape to handle the crop. Crops on the Lower Coast communities are expected to be almost a total loss and local growers and operators are expecting top prices when the season opens.

BELLE GLADE HAS FIVE CANDIDATES OUT FOR MAYOR

Seven Qualify for Three Vacancies On The Council

In the race for Mayor of the city of Belle Glade, to be held on next Tuesday, April 14, five citizens have qualified as candidates, while seven have qualified for councilmen, there are three vacancies on the aldermanic board.

The incumbent, Mayor R. K. Harris, is a candidate to succeed himself, and is being opposed by Messrs. H. Bore, George Tedder, Walter Greer and George Scarborough. Tedder and Greer are former mayors, and Mr. Bore is the Democratic committeeman for the Belle Glade precinct while Scarborough is a merchant.

Messrs. Walter Greer, Lou Betzner and C. E. Reid are the retiring members of the council, and Betzner is seeking another term. The other candidates are C. A. Thompson, broker; John S. Harris, lumber dealer; J. O. Darden, broker; Frank Franz, lumber dealer; Roy Albough, filling station operator; and Avery Bass, truck operator, and Messrs. Darden and Franz are former members of the council.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the election and registrations indicate approximately 600 are qualified to cast their votes on next Tuesday.

Look forward and not back, And lend a hand — (E. E. Hale.) The Sunday-to-Sunday Pre-Easter services are designed to enrich LIFE, God's supreme gift.

Sunday will be a red letter day at the church as there will be special services beginning with an Easter sunrise prayer meeting on the cement locus beginning at 9:30 a. m. An invitation has been sent to all of the churches to unite in this service and it is hoped there will be a large number present at the singing service. The church school will be held at 9:45 a. m., as usual, which will be followed by the Easter program by the church school which will be in charge of Mrs. W. F. Jernigan and Mrs. Elam.

At the church hour, 11:00 a. m., there will be a Baptismal service and a reception of new members. There will be about 20 to be received into the church at that time. At 7:00 p. m. the Epworth

Proof of Ford Economy

MOVE up to high-priced car performance—without the extra cost! The thrill of driving a Ford V-8 can be matched only in cars costing hundreds of dollars more. The Ford V-8 is responsive. It picks up more easily. At all speeds you get the smooth, effortless flow of power which means truly fine car performance.

And in a Ford V-8 you get this performance at less cost. In bringing the V-8 to the low price field, Ford designed an engine, which with the dual downdraft carburetor, simply takes the gas used by a "4" of similar size and splits it into eight equal charges. In fact, the Ford V-8 with its sparkling performance and 8 cylinder smoothness is the most economical car Ford ever built. Definite cost records of large passenger car fleet owners show actual savings in the operation of the Ford V-8 over previous Ford models.

Test this great car yourself. Get behind the wheel and drive it. Feel the thrill of modern V-8 performance—at low cost.

Information For All Qualified Voters which is covered by section 910, compiled general laws of 1927. In case the veteran has lost a limb or has reached the age of 55 years, he is entitled to an exemption from poll tax, regardless of whether or not he was injured in the war. The veteran is also entitled to an exemption from payment of a poll tax if he is an officer or enlisted man of the Florida National Guard, whether he is disabled or not. See section 1070, compiled general laws.

The tax collector has nothing to do with the registration books of the county, except to furnish the registration officer with duplicates of each poll tax issued, together with a typewritten list showing the number of poll tax, name of payer, number of voting precinct, etc.

The tax collector has all to do with issuing poll tax receipts but will not issue a poll tax receipt without payment in advance therefor.

No person, firm or corporation shall be permitted to pay poll taxes for another person by check, draft or any other method of payment.

This does not prohibit a man from paying his wife's poll tax. Neither does this prohibit the voter from mailing his own check, draft or money order to pay his own individual or wife's poll tax, providing he writes a letter, signing his own name and address to the letter.

Junior Chamber Host To District Meet In Pahokee

months. He paid a tribute to the "Garden of Eden" of Florida and the wonderful opportunities that are in store for those with initiative. Mr. Milligan closed his address by urging the chamber to inaugurate a beautification plan and use our natural resources in making this one of the beauty spots of the lake section.

President Rardin then introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Harold Cole, of Jacksonville, president of the State Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Cole's address dealt principally with statistical facts relative to the state and its condition, he handled without gloves the tax problems and the conditions of the school system, both he said, were keeping permanent residents from leaving without our confines. With our excellent road system and unmatchable climate and with the state advertising program recently inaugurated by the governor has been the means of bringing thousands of inquiries into the office of the state chamber of commerce and the state as a whole and this section in particular would reap untold benefits as a result of the campaign.

Mr. Cole closed his address by naming the following committee to serve with the state chamber: For the Everglades Agricultural group were George Mead, C. A. Bailey, Mack Todd, all of Pahokee, Paul Harlan of Canal Point and A. H. Harlick of South Bay.

The civic committee appointments were as follows: H. M. McIntosh, Louis Goolbsy, Walter Grier, all of Pahokee, and Joe Friedman and J. F. Sculler of Belle Glade.

The entertainment committee then took charge of the program and the Master of Ceremonies, Malcolm Millar, presented Peggy Cate who delighted the guests with a tap dance number. The little lady received a big hand. Next presented was the negro quartet and this was followed by Master Harold Sapp who executed a tap dance, he too was given a big hand. Mr. Jimmie Holloway, of Belle Glade, was then presented by the master of ceremonies. Mr. Holloway delighted the guests with two solos. He had a good voice and the easy manner in which he renders his numbers has always been the source of many favorable comments by his admirers in this particular section of the state. At the conclusion of his songs he was given a big hand.

The final feature of the evening's entertainment was presented by Jack and Ruby Hughes, nationally known radio and big top show people; they presented a circus act in which the former executed a number of breath-taking exhibitions with his cow while the small space in the hall prevented Jack from presenting his act in his usual sure-fire manner. The team got a big hand from the audience.

At the conclusion of the entertainment the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, sponsored by the Legion post, it being their regular affair. Through the cooperation of the Junior Chamber and the local Legion post all those who attended the banquet were entitled to attend the dance without any further cost. Music for the occasion was furnished by Jimmy Flournoy's radio orchestra.

Prosperity Not Around The Corner; It's In A Circle; We Can Help Each Other

Prosperity is never around the corner—it is always in a circle and the more dollars we keep going round and round the circle to you and me, the better off we will all be. The fact that our neighbor is prosperous is of vital importance to us because none of us can be prosperous alone for any length of time.

The farmer raises and sells to worth of produce. If he sends the money out of the community, or hoards it, it does not create any prosperity for him. But if he buys some hardware and a pair of shoes, it has created that ratio of prosperity for the hardware merchant and the shoe dealer, and the farmer has something he needs and prospers. The hardware merchant and shoe man spend part of their for more merchandise and the remainder for gasoline, the dentist, the preacher, taxes and clerk hire. The dentist and clerk want a chicken on Sunday and call on the grocer who goes to the farmer for his poultry. The money he started has added its bit of prosperity for all concerned and is ready to start on another cycle.

The cooperation of the merchant and his wife, the doctor and his wife, the laborer and the clerk are just as essential as that of the farmer and his wife. At whatever tangent the complete dollar flies from the community—at that point it is no longer a common asset.

Every community must have its doctors, lawyers, dentists, painters, plumbers, farmers, merchants, newspapers, etc. These and hundreds of other services are necessary to our well being. If we are to have these services immediately available, when we need them most, they must be supported throughout the year. The better they are supported the better service that is available to us individually; the better able, individually, they will be to help shoulder the common burden of taxes, civic and community welfare.

In this community campaign we want to stress some of the more obvious advantages of having our dollars also working in the community in which we work and make our living. The dollar spent here not only furnishes the buyer his merchandise but immediately goes to work paying the salaries of our friends or relatives, paying taxes, building churches and up-building those services so necessary for the convenience and comfort of the whole section. The dollar spent outside the community merely furnishes the buyer his merchandise and is gone forever so far as value to the community is concerned.

Come, join with us. Contribute your ideas.
